At that time and since a gentleman of prominence in national affairs succeeded in securing an amendment to the postal law that abolished the eight cent rate; we have paid the higher rate, which has redounded very greatly to the interests of the express companies with which he was affiliated. He has been since made a United States Senator. The President of the United States Express Company, it is claimed, secured an interpretation from the Post Office Department of the word packet--the word packet is supposed to be synonymous with the word package, and includes a piece of merchandise done up so that it can be given to a customer and carried by him. The United States law requires a monopoly of the Post Office Department, and prevents private competition with the Government function exercised through the Post Office Department. As a...
