From the very nature of things and circumstances, such is very rarely obtainable here; and the public officer must rely chiefly on himself, for noting, and duly appreciating, those physical features of the case which tend to demonstrate guilt, or exculpate innocence. In order to fit himself in any degree for such duty, and as far as practicable, extend to this country the advantages of European knowledge in these particulars, he is thrown upon the study of lengthy treatises, not one-tenth of which can, at present at all events, have practical application in this country, to the waste of his already over occupied time, and to the obscuring and perplexing of the few principles and facts which may be made really useful even now - and when known and understood, lead to the general advancement of the science of Medical Jurisprudence.
